MolES-NanoES Meeting Room Guidelines

The MolES and NanoES meeting rooms are a shared collaborative space to meet, present, and create. Meeting room use should be restricted to meetings vital to University business.

- Recurring Meetings can be booked 1 quarter at a time. At the end of the quarter, you must submit a new request for the following quarter.
- Due to limited availability, we do not allow TA office hours or reservations for single individuals.
- If your meeting has been cancelled, please email mnrooms@uw.edu.
- Preference is given to organizations and personnel affiliated with MolES, NanoES, CEI or QuantumX labs, institutes, or student organizations. Use by other UW-affiliated entities is approved by Collaboration Core administration on a case-by-case basis. Reservations outside of regular business hours are only available to MolES or NanoES building occupants.
- UW recommends taking precautions to prevent the spread of COVID-19. The University strongly suggests masks indoors for all individuals, regardless of vaccination status.

The NanoES classroom (NAN 181) and Commons are owned and operated by UW Classroom Technology and Events. The courtyard should be reserved via a Use of University Facilities request with the Office of Special Programs.

Availability

Visit the room reservation website to check availability and enter a reservation request. Meeting Room Requests must be submitted 24 hours in advance, Monday - Friday. For special events, two weeks' advance notice is recommended.

Furniture configuration

Significant changes in furniture configuration must be approved at least one week in advance by mnrooms@uw.edu.

Building Access

If your event will include attendees without MolES/NanoES access or take place outside of regular building hours (8:00 AM – 6:00 PM, Monday through Friday), be sure to check the 'Building access for attendees without keycards' box to arrange for door(s) and elevators to be unlocked. If you have modifications or other requests, please contact mnrooms@uw.edu.

Clean up

After your event, dispose of all trash and debris, wipe down all tables and white boards, and return furniture and A/V equipment to original configuration. Each room is equipped with a cleaning station that includes disinfecting wipes and hand sanitizer. Please use disinfectant wipes on all common touch surfaces as you depart.

Permit requirements

- Review the Office of Special Programs rules to determine if your event requires an Use of University Facilities authorization and complete the online request form if necessary.
- If alcohol will be served at your event, complete an Alcohol Service Request with the Office of Special Programs. You will likely also need to purchase a Banquet Permit or a Special Occasions license from the WA Liquor Control Board.

Food service and waste disposal

- If you will be serving food at your event, review EH&S's food safety requirements and complete a temporary food service application if necessary (ordinarily only needed if food is being prepared or warmed on site).
- Review UW Recycling's event coordinating guide and reserve special recycling and compost bins if medium to large amounts of food will be provided.
- Please review EH&S's Eating Spaces and Food: COVID-19 Prevention Guidance.
 Although not required, face coverings are suggested while not actively eating or drinking. Physical distancing is recommended for individuals eating while indoors if space and activities allow you to do so. Please be mindful of these practices when planning your meeting.

Catering and deliveries

If you will be receiving any deliveries for your event or expecting caterers, you must be present to receive them.

Damage to building facilities or inadequate clean-up may be billed to the event's host department or organization. Although advice and assistance may be provided by Collaboration Core administration at their discretion, event organizers have final responsibility for completing all applicable items on this list.
